

Revised plan for 176 homes at Littlemoor

A PLANNING application, which drew widespread condemnation from the local community when it was first mooted in June, has been resubmitted to Weymouth and Portland Borough Council.

The original application for an estate of 176 houses at Destiny Fields to the east of Louviers Road between Littlemoor and Preston was withdrawn. A new application has now been submitted by developers FH Cummings Unlimited which includes substantial design changes, improvements and a changed layout in line with planning officers' advice.

Spokesman for the Littlemoor Community Action Group, Dr Malcolm Beeson, said that the design changes made no difference to the group's objection that such a large development would overwhelm local schools, doctors' surgeries and transport links.

He said: "The Littlemoor Community Action Group cannot object on planning grounds, but is concerned over the wider implications of the potential for hundreds of extra houses in the Littlemoor area without any extra provision of services.

"This developer has over recent decades added the Preston Downs houses to Littlemoor, phase by phase. He should not be allowed to continue to add residential units in this area without also adding a proportional increase in services.

"We have discussed the current proposals with the county council and local doctors. We find that schools and surgeries will become overloaded, as was reported in The View from Weymouth when the development of Destiny Fields was first proposed.

by Jackie Evans

"There should not be any further development on this scale around Littlemoor until additional provision has been made to prevent adverse effects on people already living here.

"That is: the developer should fund the upgrading of services before being allowed to develop further."

David Webb, a senior architectural consultant, speaking on behalf of FH Cummings Unlimited said that there was no local plan policy which would enable the company to contribute towards the local infrastructure at present to form part of the planning application.

He continued: "The application will provide much needed affordable housing (53) and we have worked closely with the council planning department to make sure the best mix of homes will be provided to ensure the local needs are addressed.

"We would be contributing good quality homes for all types of local people, from starter homes/apartments to family homes and also providing homes for the elderly."

He added that the company was subject to Section 106 legal agreements with the council which means that they have to make a financial contribution towards public open space and recreational projects within the borough.

ZUMBA loving dairy farmer Nicola Harris-Jarvis has been a Health and Exercise Manager at the Bridport Leisure Centre for two years.

After not fulfilling her childhood dream of becoming a dancer Nicola decided the next best thing would be to work in the fitness industry, where she still gets to enjoy her passion by leading classes such as Zumba and aerobics.

Outside of work, Nicola and her husband John run a dairy herd at their Long Bredy home, Rowden Farm.

Nicola and John live on the farm with their two children, 18-year-old Sabrina, who is studying at Kingston Maurwood College and 12-year-old Lewis, who is at the Sir John Colfox School.

■ WHAT first got you interested in health and fitness?

As a child I was a gymnast and a dancer and I was always active. I wanted to be a dancer mainly but that is difficult to get into so when I left school, I started off on a YTS scheme, which was a bit like an apprenticeship scheme. I started at Honiton Sports Centre and I got qualifications like my gymnastics coaching award there. Because of my dancing background I wanted to do a bit of that as well so I then became an aerobics instructor which is the next best thing I suppose.

■ WHAT are your favourite classes to run at the leisure centre?

Zumba is brilliant. It's a dance class but it's fitness as well and it's great fun. I like teaching aerobics as well and working in the gym. I really enjoy it when someone comes into the gym and they want an exercise program to get fit or lose weight, I enjoy helping them because I'm giving them the knowledge I have and helping them to reach their goals.

■ HOW do you think we should tackle the rising obesity issue?

I think it's down to people not being aware of the health issues that surround being overweight, people need to be educated. Even though more people are now becoming active there are people that see it as too much like hard work. For the younger generation there are a lot of distractions now, like computer games, which stop kids from getting out and doing more. I think the message is slowly getting out but there is still a long way to go.

■ ARE the gym and exercise classes suitable for all fitness levels?

They are open to everyone, we get all sorts of ages and abilities. It's not just for people who are really fit already, we get the older and the younger generations, it's a mixed group of people.

■ WHAT would be your three top tips for staying in shape?

Keep active as much as you can, get out and walk about. Come to the gym and see how it is. It's not how you think, it's completely different, everyone's really friendly and there to help you achieve your goals and just keep active really, even if it's just walking down the street or riding your bike to work, anything is better than nothing, just do a little bit each day.

60 SECOND INTERVIEW

■ THE nights are getting longer now, is it harder to keep fit in the winter?

The dark nights can make it harder. Once you get home from work or college it's easy to sit down and stay there, but there are so many activities here at the leisure centre, there is something for everybody. The gym might not be for you, but you might like to go swimming. There are lots of clubs and fitness classes as well, there's something for everyone.

■ HOW did you become a dairy farmer?

My husband John has always worked on farms since he was at school, his father was a herdsman and he used to help him. Then ten years ago we decided we wanted to do it for ourselves. We were living in Honiton at the time and so we sold our house, bought cows and started our business down in Devon, where we grew our herd and then moved up to Dorset.

■ HOW is the herd doing now?

We've just sold our cows now because we are going to have a break to visit John's brother who is a dairy farmer in New Zealand. We are going to go over there for seven weeks and see how he does it and I'm going to go over there and see how their fitness industry differs and see if I can bring anything back.

■ WHAT was the last film you watched, book you read and CD you listened to?

The last film I watched was the final Harry Potter, we've followed the films all the way through. I don't really read books, mainly fitness magazines and farming magazines. The last CD I listened to would have been one of my Zumba CDs, I'm always listening to my Zumba music to get inspiration for my classes.

Major construction work on Olympic village is complete

Quay, which will form the athletes' village for all sailing events and will house the competitors and team officials taking part in the Olympic and Paralympic Games sailing events next summer.

VIPs attending the ceremony included representatives from the main contractors, Dorchester based Acheson Construction, Kim Slowe, Managing Director of ZeroC as well as civic dignitaries.

Olympian and London 2012 Board Member, Jonathan Edwards, said: "With the topping out ceremony at Officers Field today, another milestone is achieved in the preparations for the London 2012 Olympic and Paralympic sailing competitions.

"Thank you to all the partners on the Sailing Village Project, I know the competitors will enjoy making first use of this high quality accommodation so close to the sailing venue.

"Most importantly, the development is a significant contribution to the revival of the Osprey Quay area and I am sure many people from Weymouth and Portland will enjoy looking around the site this coming weekend. I am confident there will be much interest in the purchase opportunities, both from the local area and from further afield."

Dorchester based developer ZeroC will complete the internal work on the houses and landscaping on the site prior to handing it over to the London Organising Committee of the Olympic and Paralympic Games in January 2012.

The site will be handed back to ZeroC in the autumn 2012 when the athlete's village will be used as residential housing.

After the games, 19 homes will be transferred to Magna Housing Association to be used as affordable housing, and 58 homes will be sold on the open market from September 17th 2011.

Kim Slowe, Managing Director of ZeroC said: "ZeroC has greatly enjoyed working with the London Organising Committee for the Olympic Games, and the local authority, to deliver a first class athletes' village.

"Developers very rarely get the opportunity to participate in such a high profile event and Officers Field has the added bonus that it is delivering much needed, high quality, sustainable housing to Portland at affordable prices."

Exciting times for free schools

SILLY season was turned on its head this year with politicians and press alike having plenty of hard hitting events to contemplate over the summer.

The riots brought MPs
scuttling back to Westminster in the middle of August, and the aftermath – together with Libya and the state of the world economy – were at the forefront of many MPs minds as they returned to Parliament after recess.

However, alongside the return to the House of Commons, there was another return to normality – made by our nation's school children and teachers.

Like teachers, MPs (and in particular ministers) do a lot more during the summer than most people imagine.
But, like school children, they return to the start of term in a spirit of anticipation.

For one set of children, in particular, there will have been the excitement of taking their first step into one of the 24 brand new free schools now dotted around our nation.

Free schools are a key part of the current education reforms which seek to raise educational standards in places that are less well endowed with good schools than West Dorset. They are state funded and can be set up by a range of different

by Oliver Letwin MP

groups, from parents to charities.

Rather than being run by councils or politicians, free schools are run by the very teachers that work in them.
They have a considerable amount of freedom, such as how they spend the school's money and the curriculum, enabling them to create a learning environment which suits the needs of their local community.

The aim is to give parents from all backgrounds a choice over the type of school they send their children to. Being non-selective and with half of the 24 new schools in deprived areas, children from all backgrounds are able to access what free schools offer.

Although there are precedents both in Scandinavia and in America, this is a bold new venture for England.

It has certainly caused a lot of discussion as Westminster starts up again, and I have no doubt it will continue to be discussed vigorously at the forthcoming party conferences.

But, whatever the interest and anticipation in political circles, the start of a new term in a new school of a new kind must be much more exciting for the pupils, parents and teachers involved in the free schools themselves.

Cheque presented to RNLI in memory of a fond supporter

A CHEQUE of £6,400 has been presented to Weymouth RNLI in memory of a fond supporter of the charity. The money has been raised in memory of David Cole from Bristol, who sadly lost his battle with liver cancer in December last year at the age of 58.

Determined to ensure his memory lived on, the family organised a charity golf day to raise money for the RNLI. Two months on from the hugely successful event, Mark and his family visited Weymouth RNLI to present a cheque of £6,400 to the station. The money will be used to fund the volunteer lifeboat crew's kit.

Family and friends visited the station on Saturday to present a cheque. They were also given a tour of the facilities.

David's son Mark explains: "My dad fell ill in April 2010 with terminal liver cancer. He and my mother spent a lot of time in their house in Tenerife, but when he was ill and unable to fly, they decided to buy a static caravan at Bowleaze Cove in Weymouth so he could enjoy the rest of his life.

"Dad and I had never owned a boat but the cove had its own dry dock to store boats, so I thought it would be a great time to get one so we could go fishing. Unfortunately the weather was not kind to us and shortly after, dad's health deteriorated so much so he was unable to come to Weymouth. He passed away on 22 December."

Mark and his family decided to hold a charity golf day at Kendleshire Golf Club in David's memory. A total of 104 golfers took part at the event on Friday, July 1st with money raised going to the RNLI.

He adds: "My dad throughout his life always gave monies to the RNLI and it was the only charity he believed in - which is why we have chosen the RNLI and Weymouth in particular.

"We're delighted to be able to help the Weymouth lifeboat crew with new kit with the funds we raised in memory of dad. Weymouth will always hold a special place in my family's hearts now."

Mark has set up an RNLI Forever by the Sea fund, which is a facility that enables people to remember and honour the life of someone special, while also raising vital funds for the RNLI. The funds have been set aside to pay for the volunteer crew's kit and Mark hopes to hold the event again next year.

Kate Ireland, Legacy Manager for the South West, says: "As a charity we rely on such support to continue our lifesaving role on the beaches, around the coast and out to sea. A Forever by the Sea fund is a lovely way of remembering someone while also allowing family and friends to keep in touch and raise money for a common goal.

"Mark and his family and friends have done a fantastic job in raising this money in memory of their loved one. These funds will ensure the members of Weymouth lifeboat crew are properly equipped to save lives at sea."

Help for Heroes barrel roll challenge

THIS weekend a 'barrel roll challenge' is taking place on Dartmoor to raise funds for charity Help For Heroes and the Weymouth based MV Freedom.

The MV Freedom is a boat adapted to take disabled and wheelchair bound adults and children - and the elderly - out around the Dorset coast on fishing or sightseeing trips. A trip on Freedom offers a unique service for the benefit and enjoyment of people who may have a disability or learning difficulty, or who may be elderly but still young at heart.

The charity is still seeking teams to volunteer to undertake this challenge on Saturday (September 17th) with overnight camping facilities available at the River Dart Country Park. The challenge is to then return to Weymouth by whatever means possible, ending at The Kings Arms on Sunday, with a barrel race at 3:30pm. There will also be a mini beer tent, BBQ, raffle and fantastic local musicians. The mayor will be putting in an appearance and, of course, lots of people dressed as pirates and smugglers!

If you are interested in taking part, please visit www.dartmoorchallenge4charity.co.uk.

The event is being supported by Dartmoor Brewery; The Kings Arms, The Duke of Cornwall and the Chatsworth Hotel in Weymouth; and musicians Finian McGurk, Sheryl Lee, and the Shanty Singers.

If you don't have the energy for the challenge, please come down to the harbour-side by The Kings Arms on Sunday from midday onwards to show your support for the local events - and get those pirate costumes out!

* The MV Freedom has also been accepted as a candidate on this year's NatWest Community Force project. If successful, this could provide up to £6,000 towards a new boat or refurbishment of the existing boat. It's a fantastic opportunity but your support is needed; you can vote for the MV Freedom from September 26th. Find out more at <http://community-force.natwest.com>.

To qualify, the project should have been completed during the past year or be close to completion now. Anywhere within the general area of Weymouth and Portland and immediate surroundings may be considered.

Recent projects that have received the society's main annual award have included the restoration of Belfield House and the new Weymouth Bay Methodist Church.

Anyone who would like to suggest any new development, restoration of historic buildings, etc, for the society to consider, can e-mail info@weymouthcivicsociety.org, telephone 01305 782116 / 01305 770343, or write to the Plans Sub-Committee Secretary at 71 Roman Road, Weymouth, DT3 5JH.

Ideas are also invited for the Practical Artistry Award; this is intended primarily for creative work of skilled craftsmanship by young people or students, such as sculpture on permanent display in areas generally accessible to the public.

the Sea' so we are looking at those sort of numbers again.

"We are trying to make it part of the Paralympic Games so that we can emphasise their support to make it special for children and adults with disabilities and to look at ways that we can develop further opportunities through the sailing academy. Hopefully it will inspire some of those taking part, and spectators watching the events to become involved.

"We also want to get some of them up to the sailing centre here which we have done in the past. The WPNSA has won an accessibility award from the paralympic association as one of only a few venues which can cater for severe disabilities and allows excellent entry into the water regardless of the disability."

Mr Franks confirmed that they hoped to run more taster sessions both at the WPNSA where Sail Laser were very supportive, and through other providers.

Prime Minister David Cameron was among the high-profile visitors to Trafalgar Square on International Paralympic Day on Thursday where all twenty paralympic sports were demonstrated, and the day ended with the official invitation being issued to athletes around the world to compete in 2012.

What the Paralympic medal hopefuls think of Portland's sailing facilities - see next week's Views from Weymouth & Portland

POOR WEATHER meant that a group of disabled adults from the Weymouth Ridgeway Centre could not enjoy the thrill of sailing with some of the top paralympian sailors in the world last Wednesday at the Weymouth & Portland National Sailing Academy (WPNSA).

The taster session was organised to help celebrate and mark International Paralympic Day and was organised by the Weymouth and Portland 2012 Operations team working with partners at Dorset County Council (DCC), WPNSA, Sail Laser and the RYA. However the weather meant the disabled adults had to be content with a tour of the facilities and meeting and being photographed with some of the paralympians in training for next year's Games.

Six of GB's top sailors and medal hopefuls greeted the visitors; Niki Birrell, who with his partner Alexandra Rickham are the SKUD-18 world champions, the Sonal world silver medallist team of John Thompson, Hannah Stodel and Steve Thomas, and Megan Pascoe and Helena Lucas who finished third and fourth respectively in the single handed 2.4m class at the world championships. The group were accompanied by Dave Franks (DCC Sports and Physical Officer), Rachel Sadler (WPNSA) and Jackie Gisborne (Weymouth and Portland Ops Team).

The WPNSA will host the sailing events for both the Olympic and Paralympic Games next summer, and is the only venue outside of London to host a full six days of paralympic competition.

DCC hope to be able to incorporate sports activities for disabled children on Weymouth beach to coincide with the last day of the Paralympic Games sailing (September 6th) and for adults the following day (7th).

Dave Franks said: "We did something similar before with children as part of the 'Spirit of the Sea' and so what we are looking to do is move that event so we can do a special needs festival and next day for disabled adults.

"The format is to make it a fun festival with around an hour of water sports; kayaking, sailing, and then they do some cultural and sports activities to meet their needs, a really fun day for them. It will hopefully involve all the day centres from around Dorset from as far as Christchurch in the east to Mountjoy and Bridport Adult Centre in the west. We had 250 children at the 'Spirit of

Alf's chippy needs your vote!

ALF'S Fish and Chip Shop in Lynch Road, Weymouth, is one of three finalists, and the only one in southern England, for the national Ben Shaws Favourite Family Chippy Awards 2011.

The family business is run by John and Karen Pearce, with their children Jacinda and Vince and they now need customers and residents in Weymouth and Portland to vote them the best.

The Ben Shaws Favourite Family Chippy Awards were set up to recognise the hard work and commitment family run businesses put into making their livelihood a success. A quality of this fish and chip shop that stood out to the judges was their charitable work within the local community and their hard work as a family to make their livelihood a success in a short period of time.

by Jackie Evans

Chip shop owner Mr Pearce explained: "When we got the call to say we were finalists we couldn't quite believe it. We have worked hard to make a success of our family business over the past six years and we have almost trebled the turnover. Although we work very long hours from 6.30 in the morning when we start preparing the potatoes, often until 11pm at night we love the business and the community we are a part of."

Mr Pearce said that the family aims to offer top quality food at reasonable prices. "Many shops charge more," he said. "But we want to do the best for our customers. We offer an Alf's Special at £3.90 or £3.40 for pensioners.

The Pearce family also aims to put something back into the community that supports them. They run three or four coach trips a year for pensioners in the area. They deliver 100 fish and chip meals, together with boxes of chocolates, to local centres before Christmas and they also support local schools, sponsor youth football teams and support the Royal British Legion.

Mr Pearce said: "Some of the elderly people around here are on their own all the time and don't see anybody. We organise the trips to get them together for a treat and for the company. We collect in the shop for the trips but Karen and I also put in our own money."

When asked why, Mr Pearce replied: "I am a Christian and it makes people smile. You can't buy a smile and you can't take it with you."

On Friday staff from Ben Shaws came to support the Pearce family in their bid to encourage customers to vote for them in store and online at www.favouritfamilychippy.co.uk

Sundeep Gill of Ben Shaws and judge of the awards said: "The Pearce family have developed and positioned their business as a strong pillar of their local community. The testimonials from the groups supported by Alf's Fish & Chips and the evident affection of their customers supports the Pearce's family position as finalists within the Ben Shaws Favourite Family Chippy Awards."

Customers can vote online at favouritfamilychippy.co.uk and in store until Monday, October 3rd. The two other finalists are based in Whitby and Blackburn.

Up to date information will be available on their Facebook and Twitter pages facebook.com/alfsfishandchips and @alfsfishandchips. The winner will be announced on October 7th.

Paddle-steamer Waverley needs your help

A CAMPAIGN is running to try and ensure the continued existence of two iconic marine tourism attractions.

The Waverley, the world's last seagoing paddle-steamer which has just arrived in Weymouth, and her fleet-mate, the classic cruise ship, Balmoral, are facing a make-or-break year because of a huge hike in fuel costs and several bad summer seasons.

Supporters are trying to raise £350,000 to ensure their future with nearly £200,000 collected so far backed by the positive news that passenger figures for 2011 are sharply up on 2010. In July alone 32,000 passenger journeys were made on Waverley.

by Harry Walton

Waverley has just started sailings from Weymouth and will be sailing on the South Coast until the 22nd of September. Her Captain, Ian Clark said: "From the point of view of this country's heritage, the loss of these two excursion ships would be the end of an era and we don't want that to happen."

"They are the last two passenger ships to take people along to view parts of the coast which can't be seen in any other way. They are that important."

"Everyone is doing their best from support from Scottish MSPs to children giving us their pocket money when they come on board but we still need as much support as we can get. The best way for people to do this is to come out and have a sail with us."

Incredibly the Waverley is now actually working harder than when she was new in 1947 and, since she was sold to the Paddle Steamer Preservation Society in 1974 for £1, she has carried well over five million passengers on day, afternoon and evening cruises from all around the British coast.

Waverley is now in better condition than ever thanks to an £8 million rebuild in 2000 and 2003 funded largely by the Heritage Lottery Fund.

As well as restoring the ship to her 1947 appearance, and restoring her passenger accommodation to its original 1940's style, Waverley's machinery was also fully overhauled and the ship was fitted with new boilers.

Waverley and Balmoral contribute some £4.8 million each year to the UK economy and are an important tourist attraction for Weymouth and Portland.

To support the campaign visit www.waverleyexcursions.co.uk or text Wave 11 with the amount you'd like to donate (e.g. Wave11 £10) to 70070.

Weymouth weather watch

AUGUST was wet, the wettest since 1997, and although we were treated to sunshine on nearly all days, when it rained it did so with ferocity, the Carnival got through the day without much rain and the afternoon and evening were dry, the hours of darkness were a different story with heavy rain from around 0430.

The 30-year average rainfall for August is 47.9 mm: August 2011 produced 90.0 mm, 188 % of the 30-year average. To date 2011 is 29.5 mm below annual average. The greatest rainfalls were 26.7 mm on Wednesday 17th and 18.5 mm on Thursday 18th August. During a 40 hour period 42.5mm of rain was measured, almost the entire average for August.

The sun shone on all but 3 days during the month, the 30-year average sunshine for August is 219 hours and 36 minutes: August 2011 produced 202 hours and 12 minutes, 92% of the 30-year average. To date 2011 is 76 hours and 54 minutes above annual average. The sunniest day was Monday 8th August with 12 hours and 18 minutes.

Thunder was heard and lightning seen 0830 on Thursday 18th thunder was also heard at 1040 on Friday 26th and as would be expected no incidences of Hail or Snow or Frost were noted this month.

Winds during August varied greatly from calm to gusts in the mid 20's, the greatest being 50 MPH on Tuesday 11th.

Temperatures were below the monthly averages, except for the sea. The average Maximum temperature was 0.8 of a degree below average at 19.5 degrees. The average Minimum temperature was 0.3 of a degree below normal 13.5 degrees. The average Mean temperature was 0.6 of a degree below normal at 16.5 degrees. The average Sea temperature was 0.2 of a degree above average at 17.7 degrees.

AS I SEE IT ...

Thoughts into action

One of my friends used to make an interesting comment about sermons. If he liked what he heard he would describe it as something to think about.

It reminds me of the story of a church with a new minister. His first sermon delighted the congregation. But the next week he preached the same sermon. After the third repeat on the following Sunday, the elders thought it time for some serious discussion with him.

He explained that it was not because he only had one sermon for all occasions. He told them that he would continue to preach the same sermon until the church began to put into practice what he had said the first time.

However good the words are, they achieve very little unless they result in some active response. Biblical instruction and advice is not intended merely to amuse us or even satisfy our curiosity. It is intended to be much more than something to think about.

How important it is to read, mark, learn and inwardly digest; leading to application.

As the Bible says: "Do not merely listen to the word... Do what it says." (James 1:22) Read verses 23-25 for the result.

Octoberfest moves to Weymouth Pavilion

by Harry Walton

WEST Dorset Branch of the Campaign for Real Ale are again organising their popular Octoberfest beer festival on October 7th-8th but this year at the Weymouth Pavilion Ocean Room.

The previous eight years of this highly successful event have been at Brewer's Quay, but closure of the Hope Square attraction earlier this year forced a move.

West Dorset CAMRA chairman Dave Harris said: "I believe Weymouth Pavilion is going to be an even better venue. The Ocean Room is quite a lot bigger with much more seating."

"One of the difficulties at Brewer's Quay was the lack of room and the need for most drinkers to stand up. Moving to the Ocean Room will enable us to increase the numbers attending by 25 per cent."

A live band will play every evening, but lunchtimes will be quiet and music-free. The upper limit will now be 250 at lunchtimes and 400 in the evening. The Weymouth Beer Festival coincides with National Cask Ale Week.

There are expected to be 60 different casks of real ale on offer plus 10 ciders and perries. The beer will be drawn from breweries all across the West Country. Dorset ales will feature heavily and it is intended all eleven Dorset breweries will be represented. At every session, the Pavilion will be selling a full range of snacks.

Divided into two sessions on both Friday and Saturday October 7th and 8th from 11am-3pm and from 6pm 11pm, admission costs only £3 for a lunchtime session and £4 in the evening including a free festival glass to take home.

In the last two years, all four sessions have been sold out, so drinkers are advised to buy tickets in advance from West Dorset CAMRA online at www.camraw-dorset.org.uk, from The Boot pub at Weymouth, the Blue Raddle at Dorchester, from the Weymouth Pavilion box office or by telephoning Dave Harris at 01305 772286.

The CAMRA West Dorset Branch membership is now over 400, stretching from Lyme Regis to Lulworth and north to Sherborne.

Weymouth Matters

A personal View by HARRY WALTON

Spade envy

AUTUMN beckons and there aren't the crowds thronging Weymouth beach that there used to be.

So to see someone happily shifting sand with a shovel was something of an attention grabber.

Wandering over, I chatted to the man while privately wondering if he wasn't a bit too old for sandcastles.

But it emerged that he was practically an enthusiast, coming to the beach for some digging two or three times a week.

Sadly this was no local keen to avail himself of Weymouth's award-winning beach but a waste workman trying to locate sand-covered manholes so he could insert giant pipes to suck away liquid waste.

Each week he came to do his job and each week he had to prospect about to find the manholes hidden under sand. Mind you, he was good at digging and one envious boy was heard to ask his parents where he could get such a big spade!

Squirreling away for autumn

SQUIRRELS are working frantically at this time of year, garnering nuts and fruit and either eating them to put on weight for winter or storing them for hard times ahead.

They have strength out of all proportion to their size and the one I saw near my home certainly needed it.

I was walking up through the Quibo Lane cemetery when it struggled across the path in front of me, an enormous windfall apple about four times the size of its head clamped firmly in its jaws.

This was an achievement in itself but the squirrel's efforts then became positively herculean as it first battled up to the top of a cherry tree and then, carefully balancing the apple, leapt over from one of the topmost branches into one of the lowest branches of a giant neighbouring pine.

It then continued its ascent to what it considered to be a safe height before pausing for a snack from its trophy, but it was by no means the only squirrel out foraging.

I counted another five in a very small area including one which, while keeping a close eye on me, was still familiar enough with passing pedestrians to let me get within three or four feet before whisking into a tree.

will simply avoid the entire area like the plague for a week or so at night until the works are completed.

The result will be a pristine new carriageway surface to carry vehicles along the main road artery between Weymouth and Dorchester.

This will be welcome news for drivers and very welcome news indeed when it's finished for all those rural residents near the diversion route who are currently enduring a sharp and noisy increase in traffic near their homes.

Shiver me timbers!

HISTORY has always been a subject close to my heart and I came across a little gem in the wilds of Portland.

A walk was being held to look for wildlife along the cliffs and it passed through the ruins of St Andrew's Church above Church Ope Cove.

The walk leader was guiding about 30 people including a number of children whose faces lit up with interest when he began talking about skulls and crossbones.

A number of gravestones can still be seen across the site and a skull and crossbones can clearly be seen on one of them while a more substantial tomb has a much more ornate skull and crossbones on it.

The children were hanging on his every word as he pointed out the unusual sites and they were fascinated when he suggested that they could be pirate graves.

Now I was intrigued by this, did a little digging and found more than one historic source which speculated that the graves might be those of French pirates who history claims may have been among factors responsible for the church's destruction. Just goes to show what can turn up unexpectedly on a walk.

Despair at diversions

I TRUST all you drivers out there have taken note of Dorset County Council's warning and are not trying to get to or from Dorchester for the next few nights while resurfacing works are being carried out on the A354.

Diversions are in operation to Littlemoor and Preston in the east via Norwich and to Chickerell and Wyke Regis in the west via Tiverton.

These alternative routes have been carefully thought out by people who don't plan to use them.

All joking aside, while the diversions are not quite as bizarre as Norwich and Tiverton, I'm sure that trekking out to Warmwell to get home – which is the county council's suggested diversionary route – isn't filling motorists with joy.

Taxi drivers in particular are less than impressed and I'm bound to say I've written the whole scenario off as a bad job and

Kingfisher Quest at RSPB Weymouth Wetlands

The RSPB at Weymouth Wetlands are running a Kingfisher Quest this weekend, September 17th and 18th, at the Radipole Lake nature reserve.

Go along to the visitor centre in the Swannery car park any time between 10am and 3pm on Saturday or Sunday for this free event – there's no need to book.

With staff and volunteers strategically placed as 'spotters' around the site, ready to radio in to HQ, there's a good chance of seeing one of these exquisite birds, which bred here this year, producing three broods over the course of the summer, simply wonderful."

The kingfisher is truly iconic – most people can bring the image of the bird to mind, even if they haven't actually seen one. So it is surprising just how difficult it can be to spot, given its striking, vivid plumage.

Weymouth Wetlands manager Nick Tomlinson said: "We're seeing kingfishers here on an almost daily basis. This is a very good time of year for sightings because young birds are on the move and looking for suitable places to establish their own territories.

"And this is prime real estate for them. Following our two-year restoration of the reserve, water quality at Radipole Lake has improved and the sheer numbers of fish it supports, including minnows and sticklebacks, is staggering. They're just the right food prey for kingfishers, which is why, we believe, they bred here this year, producing three broods over the course of the summer, simply wonderful."

With an electric-blue back, crown and wings of greenish-blue, rich, orange-red underparts and cheeks, white cheek patches and throat, coral red legs and feet, and a long, dark bill, it should be hard to miss.

But it has a habit of perching motionless in the dappled shade of vegetation overhanging rippling water, waiting for its prey, and the different play of light and shade can render it virtually invisible.

It is also a very shy bird and often the first sign that it's about is its short, sharp, slightly ringing call of keee or ch'keee as it hurtles fast and low over the water or reeds.

Occasionally though, it will perch in the open – and Radipole Lake has a number of well-placed branches where you can watch the bird at close range – a breathtaking experience. If there's no perch around, the kingfisher can hover to rival a hummingbird!

Nick added: "These birds have favourite fishing places and perches so with our 'spotters' on location this weekend, we have high hopes that people who come along will be lucky enough to see one."

For close up stunning views of these amazing colourful birds you can hire a pair of binoculars from the visitor centre, or take advantage of the special range of binoculars and telescopes we will have in the centre for the weekend, accompanied by a team of experts on hand to give you guidance and advice, if you want to buy your own.

For further information about the Weymouth Wetlands Kingfisher Quest, call in at the Radipole Lake visitor centre in the Swannery car park or phone them on 01305 778313.

Adventurers wanted for the Windy 500 car rally

■ THE twisting delights of the Transfagarasan Highway in Romania

by Harry Walton

THIS is the sort of terrain facing 50 teams of intrepid adventurers when they set off from Weymouth in 2013 on the Windy 500.

This international car rally will take in 23 countries in 23 days covering thousands of miles.

One of the rules to add to the challenge contestants face is that all the vehicles taking part must be worth £500 or less.

Organiser Steve Blackmore said that the event hopes to raise well over £10,000 for the Julia's House charity.

He said: "The exact route is still under wraps and participants will only be informed of the following day's destination the day before.

"The only parts of the route that have been divulged are the Stelvio Pass in Northern Italy and the Transfagarasan Highway in Romania.

"Both are high mountain passes, winding their way around hairpins, and both roads have been featured on Top Gear.

"There are still places available on the Windy 500 and potential participants are able to pre-register on the website www.windy500.co.uk to express their interest before the official launch in November 2011."

Anyone who would like more information about the event should contact Steve on 07980 005469 or email him at spooky388@hotmail.com.

New all-weather pitch for Redlands

REDLANDS Community Sports Hub officially opened their new state of the art third generation Astro Turf football pitch recently.

Sue Moore, principal of Weymouth College, cut the ribbon watched by local girls' football teams who were playing a tournament later that day organised by Dorset FA.

Ms Moore said: "It has now been three years since Weymouth College took over the running of Redlands. Our vision, with other key stakeholders is to create a sporting centre of excellence that the local community can be proud of."

As a major provider of sporting facilities Redlands plays a key role in the local sporting infrastructure for numerous teams and clubs of all ages. The new floodlit artificial grass pitch will provide local teams with an all-weather training and playing solution in addition to an existing full size floodlit sand based pitch at the Sports Hub which is well used for both football and hockey throughout the year.

The pitch will not only provide the local football community with a much needed modern highly specific football facility, it will also free up the sports hall and the sand based AGP. This will enable the facility to be more flexible in accommodating and developing a wide variety of other indoors sports including volleyball, basketball, badminton, roller hockey and gymnastics. It will also provide three new mini soccer pitches.

The £700,175 project was funded with the help of a £80,175 grant from the Football Foundation. Funded by the Premier League, The FA, and the Government via Sport England, the Football Foundation is the nation's largest sports charity. Since it was launched in 2000, the Foundation has awarded around 8,000 grants worth more than £420m towards improving grassroots sport, which it has used to attract additional partnership funding of over £520m.

An additional grant of £200,000 came from The FA, as part of their capital allocation within the Whole Sport Plan agreed with Sport England. This specific aspect of funding has been awarded to support the sustainability of community clubs and create more opportunities to participate in sport within a high quality environment.

Other funding partners include a £20,000 grant from Dorset County Council and a contribution from Weymouth College who are leading the project.

Ben Heath, Sports Development Officer at Weymouth College, said: "Having a new high quality 3G pitch will mean a great deal to local footballers, but it will also allow us to free up some valuable indoor space over the winter and develop other sports. This will mean a wide range of people will benefit from this facility and the grants from the Football Foundation, FA, DCC and commitment from Weymouth College to secure the new facility."

Paul Thorogood, Chief Executive of the Football Foundation said: "We are delighted that Weymouth College and the local community will have access to these fantastic new facilities and commend the club and the Dorset County FA for their hard work in making this happen."

"Since its launch in July 2000, the Foundation and the Dorset County FA have supported 129 projects worth £4.5m, with money provided by the Foundation's funding partners – The FA, the Premier League and the Government."

"This is the latest example of thousands of projects across the country that the Football Foundation is supporting with money provided by our funding partners the Premier League, The FA and Government."

The Dorset FA organised the pre-season girls league "Super Cup" tournament to help get the teams warmed up and ready for the new season. Dorchester Magpies, Dorchester Raiders, Lytchett Red Triangle, Southside Angels, Weysports United and Weysports Vixens all competed for the under 13 Cup whilst in the under 18's Poole Town FC Wessex and Weysports United played for the title. There are over 30 girls teams playing football throughout Dorset this season; for more information about how to join a girls' football team in the local area please contact Clare Nichols, Women and Girls Football Development Officer, 01202 688280, clare.nichols@dorsetfa.com.

DORSET'S own award winning Ace Energy are the leading suppliers of solar power. Recently they have installed solar at a number of homes within Weymouth. With the average electricity bill being around £600 yearly, installing solar on your roof can reduce that bill by up to 50% and provide home owners and landlords with a healthy profit. This is due to the Feed-In Tariff scheme which pays premium rates for power generated from solar power - Dorset households on the scheme are now earning over £850 every year. The tax free, inflation-proof payouts are designed to protect the UK from ever-rising energy prices and help lower carbon emissions. You may have noticed an increase in the amount of roofs proudly showing off their solar panels recently and according to Alan Seviour, Ace Energy's MD, solar has never been more popular.

With interest rates at an all time low investment savvy householders are looking for alternative ways to earn money and solar power offers just that.

Jaxsons

Deli & Gift Store

Large range of West Country and International cheeses, fine foods, chocolates, and more....

Open Mon - Sat
9am - 5pm

Celebrating our second birthday!

BUSINESS partners Jackie Wolfe and Sharon Boswell have a lot to smile about as their business Jaxson's Deli celebrates its second birthday this week, they have also recently been awarded a 'Highly Commended' certificate in the Deli of the year 2011, a National Competition that is run by Olives Et Al.

Jaxson's Deli can be found in West Street, Bridport and they pride themselves on friendly, helpful service with a smile. With many local customers who come back time and time again it is not surprising that this Deli has been awarded a Highly Commended accolade. The store is full of lots of locally supplied meats, cheeses, teas and biscuits as well as gifts. In May 2010 Jackie and Sharon introduced a few tables to the premises to serve breakfasts, lunches, snacks, home-made cakes plus hot and cold drinks, which can be enjoyed inside or taken away. The majority of what you find on the menu is also sold in the deli, and regular customers can benefit from a loyalty scheme they offer.

Looking at the deli side there is a large stock of local cheeses, and Jaxson's like to focus on West Country cheeses, including Denhay Cheddar, Dorset Red and Woolsey Goat to name a few, they also have a good selection of goat and sheep cheese which their customers have requested as very few outlets stock these.

Every week Jaxson's have a "Cheese of the week" which introduces new cheeses and promotes cheeses that the deli already sells. Customers can come in and ask for a cheese which might not be sold and Jackie and Sharon will get this in and trial it. If it goes well they will then add it to their range. Alongside this there is always a 'Guest Cheddar' to ensure their customers enjoy sampling various cheddars from around the UK. You can also try before you buy with the cheeses and on Fridays and Saturdays they offer free tasters.

Cakes and quiches are all homemade and can be purchased either whole or by the slice, and a made to order service is also available, which is ideal if you are holding a party.

There is no restriction on the amount you have to buy, you can have just one slice of ham to twenty!, plus whatever sized piece of cheese you desire.

The shelves are filled with different teas, jams, honeys and chutneys plus a growing selection of sugar free and gluten free produce. These goodies can also be purchased online at www.jaxsonsgifts.com. A lovely present or picnic idea are the hampers that Jaxson's sell both in store and online. If you pop in store to purchase one of these you can have your hamper made to order.

Every month Jaxson's like to introduce something new, which cannot always be found in larger stores, such as their quirky gift ideas. They also have a large selection of jams and honey, which include organic ranges, which also make lovely gift ideas. There will be more gift ideas arriving from now onwards for Christmas.

Jaxson's Deli's food is all freshly prepared to order with breakfast and light lunch options and a range of sandwiches served with a handful of Burts crisps, and salad garnish to hearty ploughman's which are all served with fresh crusty bread, crispy salad garnish, coleslaw, a crunchy pickled onion plus a choice of chutney. There is something to seed all appetites. On offer every week is a special "Sandwich of the week!" and there is a selection of sandwich fillings for kids.

If it is just an afternoon home made treat you fancy with a hot or cold beverage then there is something here for you.

Open 6 days a week from 9am to 5pm, closed Sundays, why not pop in and enjoy a bite to eat or treat yourself and the family to some of the delicious local produce they have to offer.

Perrott Hill

As we step forward into a new academic year, we are thrilled to report that Perrott Hill is once again ringing to the sound of happy children who are simply delighted to be back school. It is also extremely gratifying to see that our 49 new pupils have settled so quickly and are wholeheartedly enjoying everything that Perrott Hill has to offer.

Against a background of traditional values, we have the time and space to ensure that every child achieves their very best. Class sizes are small and all children are given the individual attention necessary to ensure that they flourish. Be it in the classroom, on the sports fields (children play games five days a week), in the music school, the art department or during the vast array of activities on offer, we work to ensure that each individual reaches their full potential. We also invest time in teaching manners and the common courtesy which are so often overlooked in the rush of modern-day life.

We continue to invest in new facilities and the last 12 months have seen the opening of the Hoskyns Library, the completion of the 250 seat theatre and on-going improvements to all academic accommodation. The major project, however, has been the installation of an all-weather surface and we are now only days away from the completion of the North Lawns Project; a state-of-the-art, sand-dressed all-weather surface; hockey sessions and tennis lessons will never be the same!

To add to an already hectic summer term, we received a visit from OFSTED who inspected our boarding provision and I am pleased to report that Perrott Hill was judged to be "outstanding" in its organisation, in helping children to make a positive contribution and in helping children to achieve and enjoy what they do.

Please contact Susan Cleary on 0146072051 or e-mail her on admissions@perrotthill.com if you would like further information or would like to attend the Perrott Hill Open Mornings on Friday 7th and Saturday 8th October 2011. Information on our Scholarship Day, which will take place on Friday 3rd February 2012, is also available.

Lyme Regis Boat Building Academy

Learn Woodworking at the Boat Building Academy

The Boat Building Academy's boat building training is world famous. They have now introduced a range of woodworking courses for people who want to learn woodworking skills without the boats.

Courses range from 5 days to 8 weeks and are based on the Academy's tried and tested boat building training philosophy – they are intensive, highly practical and produce an 'end product'.

Everyone starts by being taught how to properly sharpen and use chisels and planes and move on to learn how to mark out and cut proper joints. Students on the 8 week course not only take a City & Guilds certificate but also design and make a piece of furniture for themselves to take away.

All levels of experience are welcome and students go on from the longer course to a wide range of jobs, from designing and making chairs to building timber frame houses to producing driftwood furniture.

Whether you want to try woodworking and see if it's for you, take a hobby to a different level, start a new career or just spend time on the beach learning a new skill ask the Boat Building Academy which course will best suit you.

Welcome to Beaminster...

Beaminster is a charming, historic and vibrant town with something to offer everybody. The town stands at the head of the valley of the River Brit where many tributaries join together, and the streets tend to follow the line of the streams which in earlier times flowed above ground in many parts. It is surrounded by exceptional countryside and interesting buildings, it boasts a diverse and active community, and has some of the best services and shops you will find.

On this page we celebrate the many and varied local business and traders in and around the town of Beaminster. If you need to shop it should be high on your list of destinations and would make a great day out. You will find gift shops, ironmongers, arts and crafts, pubs and restaurants. Come and explore, there is something here for everybody.

If you already know Beaminster you will understand what a fantastic place it is. If you don't or haven't been for a while then seize the opportunity to visit.

Let's Revolutionise Britain's Favourite Take - Away

BENNETT'S ON The Waterfront have been working alongside Hugh Fearnley-Whittingstall to get more people eating Mackerel.

The aim is to get mackerel on the menu in Fish and Chip shops across the UK. By offering a more sustainable alternative to the habitual favourite Cod and Chips by eating mackerel you will be helping to save our fish.

Why Mackerel?

Half of all fish caught in the North Sea are thrown back overboard dead.

Thousands of tonnes of mackerel are landed in British ports like Peterhead, every year. What's even better to know is that mackerel is fished in a controlled and sustainable way.

The huge quantities of these shoaling, fast growing, pelagic fish available, means that the cost to the consumer is considerably less than that of bigger predatory species such as cod. Plus, it's tasty, cheap and has great health benefits (rich in Omega 3s), a perfect choice really!

Bennett's have already sold over 7000 Mackerel baps since the programme was aired in January so why not pop along and try one for yourself.

Old pension plans gathering dust

The Pensions world can seem confusing and full of Jargon at the best of times, but the sad fact is that most of us do not have sufficient monies put away for retirement and indeed, those of us who do save, quite often the pots are not doing anything more than gathering dust like the statements in the cupboard. With increasing pressure on company pensions the picture potentially looks bleak for the pensioners of tomorrow.

At Pennywise we have a different approach, it's about the long haul, reviewing your pension plans every year to see how they are doing and most importantly make sure the money is in the right place to benefit from some growth. Too often pension plans are set up and then never looked at again. The world is an ever changing place and pensions are no different in that respect. What is a good investment today will not necessarily be what was best 10 years ago, likewise in 10 years time the picture may be very different.

It does not cost to have an Independent Pension review and with some minor changes there can be a marked difference in the value of your pension pot at retirement. The reality is that the more money in your Pension at retirement, the better your choices and the more income you will be able to purchase.

So call us today for a Professional Approach to Retirement Planning on 01305 268942.

New name for Wellworths!

Wellworths of Dorchester, first established on 11th March 2009, announce that they will be launching their new Wellchester name on Friday 16th September 2011.

Due to Claire and the teams desire to expand and have a web presence it has been necessary to re-brand under the new Wellchester name.

The first 2 ½ years have seen the store become a well established Dorchester business and continue to support the local community by listening to what they want and trying to supply their changing needs.

Through tough trading times the team at Wellworths have worked extremely hard to ensure the business is moving forward and now is the time to see that the business flourish's under the new name.

For a beautiful new kitchen just change the doors

advertiser
announcement

www.dreamdoors.co.uk

Dream Doors Dorset is a Franchise of a National Company. It is owned and run by Andy & Shelley Stewart as a family business with reliable National branding & backing. Their expert staff will help plan your work, help you decide what materials to choose and explain what will happen in your kitchen.

Andy and Shelley Stewart, last year made it to the final three in the South West and South Wales regional heats for Franchisee of the Year Awards. Says Andy: "We're delighted to have made it this far. We know there are over 37,000 franchisees in the UK, so to be considered among the best is a real honour."

By replacing the doors, drawers, and if chosen new worktops, appliances and accessories such as plinths, cornice and pelmet a completely new kitchen can be achieved.

A kitchen facelift can save you up to 50% compared to a new kitchen and of course it's more environmentally friendly. But how does this work? A door makeover saves what is not broken such as the main structure of the kitchen including the carcasses and simply replaces the visible elements you want to change. In addition Dream Doors can also assist with minor re-designs and additional carcasses through to new kitchens. So flexibility and choice is the name of their game.

Why not transform your old or dated kitchen into something fresh and attractive. You can pick a colour, any colour, a style, any style and as the doors and carcasses are made to measure non-standard sizes are not a problem.

So whether you are looking for a contemporary, traditional, or a country kitchen it can all be carried out in only a couple of days and without the usual hassle, disruption and upheaval.

Why not visit the showroom to see what's possible and view the extensive range of styles and finishes, worktop choices and the range of NEFF appliances and Franke sink and taps.

Devlin tells his tales from the crypt

DEVLIN, the acclaimed Dagenham-based MC, is coming to the Electric Palace this September, complete with full live band, ahead of a new album release on Universal early next year.

Leaving behind the material ramblings of an archetypal MC, listening to Devlin, you're more likely to hear tales of conspiracy theories, politics and Pavarotti. A lover of Bob Marley, The Supremes and Bruce Springsteen, Devlin isn't your average grime artist. The enigmatic, Dagenham born Devlin set the bar for a new generation of Grime music in 2006 with his underground classic, 'Tales from the Crypt'. In March 2010 Devlin was signed to Island/Universal. His official debut album 'Bud, Sweat & Beers' was released to widespread critical acclaim in Nov 2010. He visits the South-West for the first time with a full live band this September.

Devlin will be appearing at the Electric Palace on Thursday, September 22nd. Doors open at 7.30pm and tickets are available from Bridport Tourist Information on 01308 424901. Please note that there is an age restriction of 14yrs.

Howl at the Hat Fest

LOCAL singer/songwriter Elijah Wolf has been asked by The Bridport Hat Festival committee to organise, book and compere the live street music in Bucky Doo Square on Saturday, September 17th from 10am to 4pm.

Elijah, who runs the Howl Open Mic company said: "Last year my wife Ava and I were asked to perform in Bucky Doo square at the Hat festival and we had a blast, the atmosphere was fantastic. It's an absolute honour to be asked to compere and organize the music this year. My good friend and fellow troubadour Declan Duffy will also be helping to do the sound and compere on the day so its great to be working with him too. We have picked some local performers from our Howl Open Mic's and the Hat fest committee have picked some acts too. We would like to invite everyone to pick out a hat and to come and support local musicians and live music. It's going to be a great day".

The Shed Photography online artist's community launches

THE Shed Photography is the realisation of a long time dream of Chelsea Davine, who is the artist and creative force behind this exciting new project.

The Shed Photography is pleased to be launching the first Shed event to coincide with Lyme Regis ArtsFest; there will be a Shed group show at The Shelters, Lyme Regis from September 17 to 25th, and will feature 2D work and photography by Shed Creatives.

Chelsea dreamed of a place where her friends, many of whom are artists and photographers, could come together, be built into by people with like minds, and have a resource for events and information. It would also be a platform for them to offer their creations to a larger, international audience.

Artists often work in a solitary environment and are very much on their own when it comes to putting their work out into the world. It can be very discouraging and many artists remain disconnected from supportive environments. The idea of the Shed is not just a place for artists to sell their work, but to be nurtured and to be part of a community. In conjunction with the website, the Shed members will hold group shows and participate in various art events as a "family of artists".

For an annual fee of £60, artists/photographers can feature up to twelve pieces of work to be sold on the website. They will also be included in group shows and events as well as benefit from all of the marketing and advertising campaigns of the Shed. The Shed has a full-time marketing director who will be promoting the website and related events on social media outlets as well as writing a blog and monthly newsletter.

Artists' works are featured on the website Gallery. At the Shed Shop, customers can purchase these photographs and original artwork that has been printed onto a thin, elegant aluminium substrate in 4 different sizes. Custom sizes are also available for special order.

In addition, the Shed facilitates the commissioning process for each of its artists. Products are printed in England and shipped worldwide.

The Shed is involved in two events this Autumn including the Lyme Regis ArtsFest from September 17 to 25th, and a group show on October 6th at Milk Gallery in Barcelona, Spain. They will be promoting events and recruiting new members at all of these events, as well as online via our website and blog.

Small is beautiful

SHOPS from across the South West have helped a University of Exeter research team uncover the creativity and community spirit at the heart of the region's small-scale repair industries.

Following a publicity campaign in autumn 2010, businesses ranging from cobblers to tailors to sewing machine repair shops put themselves forward to be interviewed by the researchers and have their workshops recorded by photographer Steven Bond.

The beautiful and evocative photographs taken for the project will be on display in the foyer and café galleries at Bridport Arts Centre, from September 24th to October 15th.

There is a preview on Friday, September 23rd at 6pm, to which all are welcome, where there will be a discussion about the value of these small independent businesses to our communities, with the project team and some of the shopkeepers involved.

Dr Caitlin DeSilvey, a geographer based at the University of Exeter's Cornwall Campus, said: "The business of 'making and mending' is seen by many as a dying art, but our research shows a wealth of expertise and ingenuity in the South West. We've been pleased by the positive response from shops and their customers, and are very grateful to everyone who has helped so far.

"We've also been touched by the pride people take in this work and the valued role these businesses have in their communities. People entrust these shops with their most treasured possessions, from a favourite pair of slippers to a valuable family heirloom, and workers often put in extra time and care to help mend a special object."

The project will run until summer 2012 and the research team is still looking for shops to get involved. At this stage, the team is particularly keen to include businesses that repair cameras, radios, furniture and small electrical appliances. Anyone who wants to nominate a place of work or business in their local community can contact Dr DeSilvey on 01326 254161 or email her at c.o.desilvey@exeter.ac.uk

At the end of the project the images will become part of the South West Image Bank (SWIB) based in Plymouth, which is a partner in the study. The research project is funded by the Arts and Humanities Research Council (AHRC).

People can also find out more about the project at www.smallisbeautifulproject.blogspot.com

Free Art and Play Session for Children at Bridport Arts Centre

BOOKING is open for Parachute Art and Play sessions at Bridport Arts Centre. The sessions are led by Angi Porter for children under 5 years old and the first session is free.

The emphasis is on exploration not on the finished result with an awareness that creative expression develops imagination and learning skills.

Children play, assisted by their carers, with safe, non-toxic art materials and scrap. There will be lots of fun for everyone and all materials are provided.

Learning Coordinator Kate Wilson said "We're very enthusiastic about these sessions, they give younger children an opportunity to develop imagination in a fun environment."

The sessions take place weekly on Tuesdays from September 13th - December 13th 10.30am-12.30pm. There are 15 places available and booking is essential. Drop in to Bridport Arts Centre or call 01308 424204 for more information.

Poetry for Pleasure

by Frank McGarry

*Between the optimist and the pessimist,
The difference is droll:
The optimist sees the doughnut;
The pessimist the hole.*

Anon

THE monthly magazine Literary Review enables keen readers to see reviews of novels and non-fiction before spending good money on the books themselves. Also each month they have a poetry competition in which entries must rhyme, scan and be no longer than 24 lines. The subject is chosen each month by the editor. Recently the topic was 'clairvoyance', and the winning entry was this bit of fun from Sheila Sims, who was clearly inspired by Stanley Holloway's famous monologue.

THE GIPSY'S WARNING

*There's a famous seaside place called Blackpool
Where it's cheap to get breakfast and bed,
And Mr and Mrs Ramsbottom
Went there on the day they were wed.*

*A grand little place was the lodgings
With notices pinned on the wall.*

*'No sand in the bedrooms', 'No callers'
And 'Please leave your boots in the hall.'*

*They didn't think much of the ocean,
Though they did have a paddle, it's true.
Then strolled down the mile known as 'Golden'
To find something else they could do.*

*What they found was a gipsy called Enid,
A Romany lady, she said,
And Mrs Ramsbottom decided,
For a chuckle, to have her palm read.*

*She emerged from the tent looking pallid.
'She told me that we'll have a son
Called Albert, who's ate by a lion.'
He said, 'Can't you see you've been done?'*

*In Lancashire? Lions? he bellowed,
'The woman must be round the bend!'
So Albert was born nine months later
And we know what occurred in the end!*

Another lady who writes with her tongue in her cheek is the wonderful Wendy Cope. This poem is from her 'Serious Concerns' collection, first published in 1992. I wonder what William Barnes and Thomas Hardy would have made of it.

PASTORAL

*I wish I was a provincial poet,
Writing a lot about nature,
Whenever I thought about London poets,
I'd mutter darkly, 'I hate yer.'*

*And off I'd stomp down the wild, wild lanes
In my jeans and my wellington boots.
A provincial poet doesn't need lipstick
Or tights or respectable suits -*

*The clutter of urban life. How wonderful
Just to discard it all
And spend one's time communing with everything,*

*Perched on a dry-stone wall.
And after a busy day communing
To amble back home for a bite,
Then go to the pub with some real people,
Who manage twelve pints in a night,
Which helps them get through the provincial evenings
Without too much boredom or pain,
Real people, as solid and ruddy and calm
As a London bus in the rain!
Some day I'll go and live in the country
And many a notebook I'll fill
With keen observation of animals (mostly
The dead ones because they keep still).
Dead sheep and squashed rabbits. Oh, how I shall love it.
My face will be peaceful and brown
And shining with love for all of creation,
Excepting those poets in town.*

It was Wendy Cope who said, "I used to think all poets were Byronic - mad, bad and dangerous to know. And then I met a few. They're mostly wicked as ginless tonic and wild as pension plans."

THE CHANGE-UP <sup>15</sup>

Growing up together, Mitch (Ryan Reynolds) and Dave (Jason Bateman) were inseparable best friends, but as the years have passed they've slowly drifted apart. While Dave is an overworked lawyer, husband and father of three, Mitch has remained a single, quasi-employed man-child who has never met a responsibility he liked. To Mitch, Dave has it all: beautiful wife Jamie (Leslie Mann), kids who adore him and a high-paying job at a prestigious law firm. To Dave, living Mitch's stress-free life without obligation or consequence would be a dream come true. Following a drunken night out together, Mitch and Dave's worlds are turned upside down when they wake up in each other's bodies and proceed to freak out. Despite the freedom from their normal routines and habits, the guys soon discover that each other's lives are nowhere near as rosy as they once seemed...

Local comedians to join circuit pros at first Bridport Arts Centre Comedy Café

COMEDY professionals and emerging new acts will be joined by local comedians at the first Bridport Arts Centre Comedy Café night.

Bridport's own Gary Ball will perform one-liners as his alter ego "Barry Barking" and fellow local resident Paul Siebenthal will be sharing his tales of life in the countryside, fresh from completing London's renowned Amused Moose stand up course.

Joining them on the night will be 14-year-old Beaminster schoolboy Rex Fisher, who gives his own unique take on teenage life.

Experienced new acts, Sherborne's Jason Manly and Bournemouth's Mike Bilham, will complete the line up supporting the evening's headliner, high octane musical comedian Ashley Frieze. Fresh from the Edinburgh Comedy Festival Ashley will be sharing songs from his solo show, The Seven Deadly Sings.

Guiding the audience through the night's entertainment will be resident compere and another Bridport resident, Tom Glover.

Tom has performed more than 40 gigs around the UK, since starting out last October, and was a winner at the Swanage Comedy Festival open mic competition earlier this year.

The first Bridport Arts Centre Comedy Café Night takes place on Friday, September 23rd - tickets are available from the box office 01308 424204, £5/£3 concessions.

COMPERE | Local comedian Tom Glover will be introducing the acts

HEADLINER | Ashley Frieze will be performing his brand of musical comedy

NOT having Broadband or a computer at home is no longer a problem thanks to local company, "Very Basic computer training"

In addition to their training, they are now offering mobile computing, providing an on the spot web- search and print service.

Business owner, Rachel Brown, from Beaminster says "Not everyone wants to own a computer or can afford to pay the extra bill for Broadband. However, to access pretty much anything these days you need to visit a website whether it's for a recipe or booking a cheap holiday, online applications or job searches."

Rachel goes on to say "we take our laptops and printers to people's homes and browse on their behalf then print the information on the spot. We have mobile broadband so can surf the internet for our customers without additional costs.

One of Rachel's customers, who use this service, said "One of the main benefits of the service Rachel and her team provide is the flexibility on which they work. As they come to us it can fit in when it suits me. I have booked a holiday and completed an online application with Rachel's help."

I've heard it's 'Notting Hill by The Sea'

Tom Glover talks to top comedian Jo Caulfield ahead of her first visit to Bridport

Your show is a "Tour Of Towns I've Heard Of But Never Been To", what have you heard about Bridport?

To be honest - I know very little about Bridport. I've seen it on Location, Location, Location. I know P.J. Harvey was born there. And several people from Bridport who follow me on Twitter have told me its nicknamed Notting Hill by The Sea. So I'm expecting to see a lot of hippy-ish looking men on the beach, flying kites while talking very LOUDLY on Blackberrys.

What can people expect to see from your show?

One review called the show a "celebration of anger". I liked that.

This is a show I'm really proud of, there's a lot in it: my thoughts on relationships, dating, sex, my husband, my Irish mother, advice on how to deal with irritating people, bad service, international terrorism, celebrity perfumes, reality TV, kids bedtime stories.

And I don't mind showing what an idiot I can be. I've always done something stupid that I can share with the audience. I've got a ridiculous story of going to dinner with two complete strangers because I mistakenly thought I knew them. To add insult to injury I paid for the dinner.

There's even a game and a special audience interaction piece at the end.

Why did you decide to take up comedy in your 30s?
I fell into it!

I went to see a friend do a 5 minute openspot at the Comedy Store, and even though he died on his arse I was hooked. The next day I went through Time Out Magazine, where all the comedy club were listed, and booked myself into a couple of open spots.

I had no idea how to write jokes. I just scribbled down half a dozen things I'd said that made friends laugh.

My first gig was a New Act competition at The Comedy Cafe, Old St, London. Before the show I was so nervous I ended up getting drunk. I have no idea what I said onstage. I don't even remember being on stage. But I won the competition.

That makes me sound like I'm a natural. I wasn't. I was dreadful - but I must have been slightly less dreadful than everyone else on the bill that night.

To be honest I knew so little about comedy I was under the delusion I was quite good, so I kept going. The truth is I wasn't even good enough to know how bad I was.

That's what happens in the beginning. At first your excitement and enthusiasm can win over an audience. It's like any job; they let you off for a while because you're new but eventually they get pissed off that you still don't know what you're doing.

A couple of months later another standup advised me that regular compering was one of the best ways to improve as a comic, so I saved my 'waitressing tips', bought a cheap microphone & a small amplifier and opened my own comedy club in the basement of a bar in North London.

Do you wish you had entered the industry earlier?

No. Comedians need 'life experience' before they can stand on stage and give their views. I'm not interested in 'little boy' comedians or their jokes about playing with an X-Box.

I read that you gave yourself a two-year deadline to make a success of comedy, when did you realise it was something you could really make a go of?

When the phone started ringing. I used to spend a couple of hours every day ringing round comedy clubs trying to get some work. Then one day there was a reversal and the clubs started phoning me.

I remember getting booked for a show in Sheffield. I kept thinking, "What? You're paying ME to go all the way to Sheffield? Why would you do that? Are you mental?"

Do you think its tougher trying to make it as a female comic?

When new female comics ask me that question I always say: Just work on being as funny and original as you can. Don't think about the female thing - you're a woman, that's not going to change.

And try not to dress too provocatively, it distracts from the comedy.

Do you have any stories from horror gigs?

On tour I set myself a challenge to try and write material specific to the town I'm in. I like exploring the town and pointing out to the locals things I've noticed about their High Street. It's great when I can talk about a pub or a shop and the whole audience knows it intimately. I did a show in Ipswich last year and told a true story about the bad service I'd received that afternoon in a local cafe. It turned out the man who owned the cafe was sitting in the audience and the grumpy waitress, who I'd slagged off, turned out to be his daughter! Luckily he agreed with me that she was a terrible waitress.

You're a regular TV and radio show panelist, what are your favourite shows to work on?

"Have I Got News For You" on TV, because Ian Hislop and Paul Merton are really nice people, and "Hot Gossip" on the radio because Claudia Winkleman is brilliant company.

What's your opinion on the exposure comedy is getting in the mainstream at the moment?

Love it! Every time I appear on Michael McIntyre's Comedy Roadshow or Mock The Week I get more people coming to see my LIVE shows.

The only thing I would change is I'd let the comedians do what they do onstage. There's a lot of shows where the producer will say, "Can you drop that routine? And change that word. And don't say anything that will offend anyone" - I just think, Well why did you book me?

What advice would you give to aspiring comics?

Respect the Art of Stand-Up Comedy. Study comedy. Study the construction of jokes. No matter how much you respect your favorite comedian do NOT copy their mannerisms or speech patterns. Be yourself. Read my website: "Things I've Learned As A Comedian" - I post tips and answer emails about Stand-Up Comedy.

◆ JO CAULFIELD brings her stand up show "Cruel To Be Kind (The Tour of Towns I've Heard Of But Never Been To)" to Bridport on Friday, September 30th.

Tickets are £10 in advance or £12 on the door available from Bridport Tourist Information Centre on 01308 424901. For more information see www.electricpalace.org.uk

QR Codes are coming to a 'For Sale' board near you!

IS IT REALLY THE FUTURE?

GORDON and Rumsby are about to launch QR code technology on For Sale Boards and in newspaper advertising as we feel this is an important technological advance in the industry that cannot be ignored. We will be the first estate agent in the Lyme Bay area to use it. With the majority of home buyers beginning their search on the internet these days, we have already adapted our website to work with smart phones and this is the next step. We are sure there will be many more!

The last few years has seen a dramatic increase in the use of both smartphones and mobile internet. According to Ofcom and the Office for National Statistics, nearly 1 in 3 adults now own a smartphone and 45% of us now use the web while we're out and about. That trend is expected to increase - by 2014 it is predicted more of us will access internet based services on our phones and other mobile devices than on our PCs at home!

BY MORPHSITES AND GORDON & RUMSBY

That isn't really surprising when you consider that the increase in such technologies as QR codes and mobile websites provide users with access to the exact content they are interested in almost instantly, providing a every individual with a tailored experience.

Seeing a "For Sale" sign outside a property you like the look of and being able to instantly access all the key details for that the property is a great example of this tailored experience and brings sellers and buyers together much more effectively.

The use of QR codes in Japan and the US is ubiquitous across many industries, and we expect the same thing to happen in the UK over the next 12 months. The possibilities in the use of QR codes are endless, and offer all businesses and organisations the opportunity to develop innovative ways to use them in order to reach their target audiences more effectively.

Pete Fairburn from morphsites, who are providing the QR code system, said: "We are delighted to be working with Gordon & Rumsby in rolling out this exciting technology in the area and believe it will lead to bringing sellers and buyers together much more effectively."

What is a "QR Code"?

A QR or Quick Response, code is a type of barcode design to be read by a smartphone at high speed. Different information can be encoded into the code, including web addresses, text and contact details.

A typical use would be a link in the code to a mobile website, allowing a user to access information or special offers comfortably on a smaller screen size, wherever they are.

Most smartphones will need to have a free app downloaded in order to read these codes presently. It is expected the next generation of smartphones will include QR code reading as standard.

How do I scan one?

Once you have a QR code app downloaded, simply start the app and point it at a QR code - the phone should do the rest!

Even more mugen power for Honda Civic type R

ONE of the most exclusive and explosive hot hatches of recent years has been given an extra dose of MUGEN power.

The Honda Civic Type R MUGEN debuted in 2010 to near-universal acclaim, and a 20-strong limited edition production run of the hand-built, motorsport-derived machines went on sale to UK enthusiasts.

Now technicians at Northampton-based MUGEN Euro have worked their magic again, producing a unique version with even more power and torque.

The cylinder bore and stroke have been increased to create an overall capacity of 2,156cc, so the car has been christened the Honda Civic Type R MUGEN 2.2.

The result of the change is a boost in engine output from 240 to 260PS, and additional torque is available throughout the rev range. Peak torque is now 240Nm at 6,000rpm. Compared to a standard Honda Civic Type R, both power and torque are up 30 per cent.

When coupled to the host of motorsport-derived components created exclusively by MUGEN – including sports suspension, up-rated brakes and a stunning performance bodykit – the MUGEN 2.2 represents the ultimate expression of the Honda Civic Type R philosophy.

It has been created as a fitting tribute to the highly successful Honda K20 2.0-litre petrol engine, which has ceased production in Japan. Homologated by MUGEN as an FIA Group N race series engine, the K20 has long been the powerplant of choice with tuners and motorsports competitors who want the very best in naturally aspirated performance.

Moreover, it has been at the very heart of everything MUGEN Euro has achieved since the company was formed in 2006. Its skilled engineers have built or tuned almost 400 examples for race and rally competitors around the world.

The Honda K20 engine has also powered the only two complete road cars produced by MUGEN; the Honda Civic MUGEN RR four-door saloon sold in Japan, plus the limited Honda Civic Type R MUGEN sold in the UK.

Hiro Toyoda, vice-president of MUGEN Euro, commented: "Environmental pressures mean naturally aspirated engines are rapidly being superseded by other engine architectures and technologies. We may never see the like of the K20 in a mainstream production car again, so felt it only fitting we mark the occasion with this special 2.2 version of the Honda Civic Type R".

Plans for the 2.2 car have yet to be finalised. Of the 20 limited edition 2.0-litre cars launched in 2010, four remain unsold and it's possible MUGEN Euro may offer them with the reworked engine. Existing owners could also be invited to return their cars for an upgrade. A decision on these two proposals is expected to be made shortly.

Ford Mondeo named greenest family car by What Car?

THE most fuel efficient Ford Mondeo was declared the UK's greenest family car at this year's What Car? Green Awards.

Already winner of two trophies at the magazine's overall awards in January, the Ford Mondeo range's 65.6mpg 1.6-litre TDCi (turbo diesel) model sealed the green recognition from What Car?.

What Car? editor in chief Chas Hallett said: "Ford has done great things to the Mondeo. The award-winning 1.6 TDCi is the best green family car, being both a brilliant all-rounder and remarkably eco-friendly with its low CO2 rating of 114g/km.

"The judging team praised its supple and controlled ride, lively chassis and perfectly weighted steering."

In January, within months of going on sale, the new Ford Mondeo was voted by What Car? as best overall family and estate car. Now its frugal fuel economy, while continuing to offer a rewarding drive, has also been rewarded with a What Car? Green Award.

Mark Ovenden, Ford Britain managing director, said: "Thanks to impressive fuel economy, Ford has an outstanding low-carbon vehicle line-up which combines design style, technology and affordability. This Ford Mondeo's UK-built 1.6 diesel engine is an extraordinary combination of performance and low CO2 and is available across the range from Fiesta to Galaxy."

In the Ford Mondeo it produces only 114g CO2/km while returning 65.6mpg – meaning zero road tax in the first year and £30 annually from then. Sales of both the fuel-sipping 1.6-litre diesel and 1.6-litre petrol EcoBoost are rising since being introduced this year on all Ford large cars – Mondeo, S-MAX and Galaxy – with Auto-Start-Stop as standard.

The Ford Mondeo 1.6 TDCi is priced from £19,895 with Bluetooth, cruise control and Easy Fuel, to prevent misfuelling, as standard.

Even more mugen power for Honda Civic type R

ONE of the most exclusive and explosive hot hatches of recent years has been given an extra dose of MUGEN power.

The Honda Civic Type R MUGEN debuted in 2010 to near-universal acclaim, and a 20-strong limited edition production run of the hand-built, motorsport-derived machines went on sale to UK enthusiasts.

Now technicians at Northampton-based MUGEN Euro have worked their magic again, producing a unique version with even more power and torque.

The cylinder bore and stroke have been increased to create an overall capacity of 2,156cc, so the car has been christened the Honda Civic Type R MUGEN 2.2.

The result of the change is a boost in engine output from 240 to 260PS, and additional torque is available throughout the rev range. Peak torque is now 240Nm at 6,000rpm. Compared to a standard Honda Civic Type R, both power and torque are up 30 per cent.

When coupled to the host of motorsport-derived components created exclusively by MUGEN – including sports suspension, up-rated brakes and a stunning performance bodykit – the MUGEN 2.2 represents the ultimate expression of the Honda Civic Type R philosophy.

It has been created as a fitting tribute to the highly successful Honda K20 2.0-litre petrol engine, which has ceased production in Japan. Homologated by MUGEN as an FIA Group N race series engine, the K20 has long been the power-plant of choice with tuners and motorsports competitors who want the very best in naturally aspirated performance.

Moreover, it has been at the very heart of everything MUGEN Euro has achieved since the company was formed in 2006. Its skilled engineers have built or tuned almost 400 examples for race and rally competitors around the world.

The Honda K20 engine has also powered the only two complete road cars produced by MUGEN; the Honda Civic MUGEN RR four-door saloon sold in Japan, plus the limited Honda Civic Type R MUGEN sold in the UK.

Hiro Toyoda, vice-president of MUGEN Euro, commented: "Environmental pressures mean naturally aspirated engines are rapidly being superseded by other engine architectures and technologies. We may never see the like of the K20 in a mainstream production car again, so felt it only fitting we mark the occasion with this special 2.2 version of the Honda Civic Type R".

Plans for the 2.2 car have yet to be finalised. Of the 20 limited edition 2.0-litre cars launched in 2010, four remain unsold and it's possible MUGEN Euro may offer them with the reworked engine. Existing owners could also be invited to return their cars for an upgrade. A decision on these two proposals is expected to be made shortly.

Legg produces blistering performance to destroy Weymouth

DORCHESTER 114-6 BEAT WEYMOUTH 24 ALL OUT BY 90 RUNS

JON LEGG produced a superb all round performance as Dorchester U18s won the Bright Sparks T20 Cup Final at Dorchester Rec by bowling out local rivals Weymouth for just 24 runs; his 56 not out and 5-8 off only three overs including a triple wicket maiden rightly earning him the man of the match award.

Dorchester won the toss but lost Hugh Pryce (1) caught behind by Tim Guest off Cameron Armfield (1-23) with the score on 18 as Weymouth bowled and fielded with vigour. A promising partnership of 30 between Jon Legg and Marcus Evans (13), including some excellent running between the wickets, was ended by Rob Sers when he bowled the latter and then removed Lewis Chutter (5) off a leading edge to Ryan Monk. Nick Roe followed shortly afterwards when he was run out by a direct throw with the score on 58-5 as Weymouth looked to restrict Dorchester.

Monk then bowled both Cameran Lucas and Scott Parker as they tried to push the score along in the last few overs restricting Dorchester to 86-8. However James Dunham (8 not out) gave Legg support in the latter overs who played some exquisite cover drives and perfectly timed shots to square leg as 24 runs came from the last three overs to set Weymouth an interesting total of 114-6 to chase.

Weymouth immediately found the accuracy and pace of Dunham and Dominic Royle difficult to score from with only 12 runs coming from the first six overs and the loss of Guest, Armfield and Monk. Dorchester's fielding and bowling was a coaches delight and included a fantastic one handed diving catch by Hugh Pryce off Dunham (1-5) to remove Guest.

A devastating spell of bowling from Legg (5-8), including four clean bowled, and skipper Joe Power (2-3) saw the last seven wickets fall for only 12 runs as Dorchester ran out easy winners.

Grant Armfield, Weymouth's manager said:

"We enjoyed the competition format and played well in all the games up to the final. The final was a game of two halves - we bowled and fielded competitively but lost it completely with the batting.

"However the game was played in an excellent spirit and I was pleased about that for the reputation of young Dorset cricketers. Weymouth are still a relatively young team and a lack of 18 year olds probably showed. I think we will have a similar team next year, and we took the opportunity to play down to under 15 level which is good for succession planning."

Competition co-organiser, Lee House said: "At the halfway stage the game was pretty much even, however Dorchester blew Weymouth away after the break with a fine bowling and fielding display. I'm sure that a team as talented as Weymouth's will learn from the experience and recover.

Both sets of lads have heaps of ability and they should be looking to represent their respective clubs at any opportunity to make sure they fulfil this potential."

House continued: "Unfortunately our sponsor, Ross Moors of Bright Sparks electrical contractors could not make the final, but if he could he would've been very impressed by the talent on display, especially Dorchester's Jon Legg who received the man-of-the-match gong for a jaw dropping display.

"If there was an award for player of the competition, then Jon would be the favourite after a series of fifties and wickets. He has a bright future and always works hard to improve his game which is nice to see."

House concluded by saying: "Thanks must go to our sponsor, Ross Moors who continues to support local sport.

"Thanks also to Rachel Bailey and the other committee members who support this competition, and to all the managers, umpires and players who make this competition run smoothly and embrace the 'spirit of cricket' mantra. Without them, this competition would not be possible."

■ TOP MAN: Dorchester's Jon Legg receives the man-of-the-match award from Derek Pride of MDECL for his unbeaten 56 not out and haul of 5-18.

Presidents Prize Medal Competition

IN bright, sunny conditions, but with a strong wind blowing which even affected putting on certain greens, a full field assembled to contest the Presidents Prize medal competition.

With fairways giving good run and greens fast and true only the increasing wind had an adverse affect on the flight of the ball. This was reflected most noticeably on the short par threes where only 6 "twos" were recorded.

However, the scorers, in the main did not reflect the difficult conditions as some excellent scores were recorded. In particular the regular pairing of Roger Seed (0) and Adrian Morgan recorded exceptional gross scores of 69 and 73 respectively. Whilst both achieved a 69 net, it was new club member Geoff Pontefract (10) who carded the best net of the day with an impressive 66.

In second place was Tim Daniel (11) with an equally impressive net 68 narrowly beating Mike Ebdon into third place on countback. Fourth was Danny Hopkins (14) with a net 69.

FOOTBALL

UNDER 8

BRIDPORT started confidently and played some nice football at times. The midfield of Finley Cauldwell, Mannie Wellman, Harry Cortice and Oliver Hansford-Harvey all linked well together in the midfield creating several good chances with Tom Kilcoyne always a threat up front.

Bridport kept good shape throughout the game with Dillon O'Brien and Toby Pattemore marshalling the defence.

No result can be published as the children play in a non-competitive league.

BRIDPORT U10 6 WEYMOUTH TERRAS 1

THIS was a good game played in lovely conditions at Broadwindsor.

Bridport played with a new formation with three at the back to allow the full-backs to use the wings to create space and opportunities.

Oscar and Cole played in the central role and did very well. The first-half was hard because we had a lot of possession and created a lot of opportunities, Bridport did get the all important goal just before half-time a well worked goal finished by Morgan.

In the second-half the goals started to flow. Finlays movement and twists and turns in the penalty box created all sorts of problems and he deservedly got a goal. Morgan's keen eye for goal was rewarded with four goals.

CANFORD HEATHLANDS 2 BRIDPORT U12 9

BRIDPORT slipped behind after 10 minutes with Heathlands making the most of the sloping pitch and doubled their advantage five minutes later.

Bridport did respond twice in the closing minutes of the first-half - one from Tom Hyde and one from a forced own goal.

After the half-time talk Bridport played as they can keeping Heathlands camped in their end for long periods. Resulting in two goals from Jake Rowland and a fine hat-trick from new signing Frederick Valinski.

Thomas Hyde and, a fine goal from another new boy Noah Leo, completed the scoring.

BROADSTONE FC 2 BRIDPORT U14 5

BRIDPORT were made to kick up the sloping pitch in the first-half which Broadstone exploited as they took the lead in the first five minutes after some sloppy Bridport defending.

The hosts were awarded a free-kick about 25 yards out it was curled home for the second goal and Bridport looked rattled. Edward Butchart was doing his best to keep the defence together with some great tackling and blocks.

From here on in though the visitors started to get hold of the game.

Jon Paul Avery was starting to have an influence with his direct running and he squeezed in a low cross that Owen Ward finished superbly to halve the deficit.

This had Bridport's tails up and the half chances started to appear. Avery blazed over when he should have scored, but would make up for the miss minutes later by scoring the equaliser.

Possibly it was a little contentious as one of the Broadstone players lay injured and although Manager Sayers was asking his players to put the ball out, they continued up the field.

The ref did not stop the action and the ball ended up with Freddy Woolner who supplied a great cross and Avery converted with a cheeky flick in the six yard box.

In the second-half Bridport used the slope to their advantage, and were pretty dominant for the second 35 minutes. Owen Ward scored the third goal with a neat header from a well delivered Sayers cross.

Woolner then crossed an inch perfect ball that Sayers guided into the far corner for 4-2.

Rhys Hayter rounded off the scoring with a superb individual goal - a lovely right footed effort into the far top corner.

RUGBY

BRIDPORT COLTS 26 CHARD COLTS 7

BRIDPORT eased past a spirited Chard side, who, although a man short, competed right to the end of the match.

Bridport opened the scoring from the first set-piece of the game when they moved the ball quickly from a scrum in their opponent's half out to Eli Halkes-Wellstead on the wing who squeezed through in the corner.

Chard came back quickly, however, forcing a line-out close to the home line. Although it was a Bridport throw, the tapped back ball was fumbled several times and Chard were first to dive on the ball as it trickled over the goal line. The conversion was good and the visitors led by two points.

Bridport struck back with the last action of the first period when a Chard line-out was stolen and Jason the number 8 charged through. He just managed to get the ball away as he was tackled short of the line and Will Haggerty picked it up off his toes and dived over for the try, Luke King successfully converted.

In the final period Bridport scored twice in the final ten minutes. Firstly, some quick thinking by Haggerty who took a quick throw in to Mike Holden and although Chard did bring him down, he managed to feed the ball to Haggerty who had followed in support and still had some yards to make through a couple of tackles.

Finally Toby James was the last link in a move which demonstrated the youngsters handling at its very best as the ball was moved quickly across the pitch when Chard failed to deal with a Bridport kick and chase, sharp offloads led to James diving over with a defender hanging off him. Lester-Card converted both tries.

Oaks cut down at windy Dorchester

TWO of the four local clubs had away fixtures on Saturday last, the first day of the Dorset Clubs' league season and a third, PUDDLETOWN, had no league fixture. Happily, DORCHESTER played at home and I trotted off there to have a look at their game against OAKMEDIANS.

DORCHESTER 28 OAKMEDIANS 3

ALTHOUGH conditions were good at Dorchester, there was a gusting cross-wind that threatened to cause the place kickers difficulty.

The visitors were given the kick-off and had the wind marginally at their backs in the first-half and, while Dorchester would have been encouraged when their eight shoved their opponents at the first set scrum, the first few minutes play took place almost entirely in home territory.

Oakmedians took the lead before the game was ten minutes old when their number ten kicked a penalty goal from in front after Dorchester had been penalised for holding on. The home side replied in kind however when, in what was really their first foray into their opponents' territory, they won a penalty and Bament bisected the posts from the tee.

A second Oakmedians penalty attempt went wide soon after, and then the home side took the lead with a try out wide by scrum half Biddle who completed a successful attack by his colleagues during which the ball had passed through several pairs of hands, and had been off-loaded adroitly on more than one occasion. Bament added the extras with a good kick from out wide, and Dorchester led 10-3.

More was to come before the break for, having now seemingly found the secret, the home side scored again in short order. They turned over ball in midfield, having harassed their opponents into error, before spreading the ball wide and flanker Joe Gower got over in the corner. The conversion kick dropped under the bar but Bament made ample amends for his miss when, just before the break, he judged the cross wind nicely and landed a penalty from some forty yards.

This score gave the home side a 18-3 lead at the break and, although they had not won the territorial battle in the first half, I felt they were good value for it. I felt that Dorchester, who now would have the breeze behind them, would stretch away in the second half, and confess to be a little disappointed that they did not.

The third quarter was a rather nondescript affair and the home effort was not helped by the fact that they lost both their number eight and one of their locks to the bin at different times for late tackles. These absentees forced them on to the defensive rather and, with Oakmedians not offering too much in attack, the scoreline remained the same. With ten minutes to go however, Dorchester stirred themselves, won a penalty on the opponents' ten yard line, and converted it through Bament who was having a good day with the boot.

Their opponents were getting a little petulant now, and were penalised several times for "rabbit". On the second occasion the home side took a quick tap and their number eight forward, Vivian, took advantage of some ineffectual tackling and got over close to the posts.

Bament duly converted to complete the scoring and to take his side to a pretty decisive win.

Dorchester will be satisfied with their start to the season, in spite of their tendency to meander through the third quarter.

BOURNEMOUTH 3rd 7 WEYMOUTH 29

ALTHOUGH they were slow to start, Weymouth would have ended the day well pleased with their initial league encounter.

Having lost the toss, they were invited to play with the wind in the first-half and it took them 20 minutes to come to terms with the conditions, the opposition and the game in general. Having done so, they gained control and went on to win comfortably.

Joel Wilson opened the scoring when, after some pressure by his colleagues, he broke and scored for Barter to convert. The seven point lead was increased to ten by a Baudouir penalty goal subsequently and before the half was through, centre Gibson broke through the home defence and put the speedy Quick away. Barter converted this one also, and Weymouth led 17-0 at the break.

Matters were not "done and dusted" at this stage however for the visitors now had to face the strong wind, and the home side duly imposed pressure early in the second period. The defence coped though, and finally Weymouth broke out and scored through Wilson after Gibson's break had put him clear. Baudouir added the extras and Weymouth were clear at 24-0 ahead.

The next 20 minutes belonged to the home side and play took place, for the most part, in the visitors' twenty two. Weymouth defended well enough however, although pressure finally told and a penalty try was conceded.

It was Weymouth who had the final word however and, after one of the home locks had been sent off for foul play, they went through the phases and Will Hughes made the result safe by getting over in the corner. The try remained unconverted.

Bournemouth could do no more and Weymouth held on with ease to record a handy win.

WEYMOUTH 2nd 19 PUDDLETOWN 10

WITH their league programmes yet to start, the clubs arranged a friendly that doubled as a trial game, with many changes being made throughout to both line ups.

Puddletown certainly had the better of the early exchanges and took the lead via the boot of Toby Musgrove after 15 minutes' play. The visitors continued to prosper for the remainder of the half and, just before the break, centre Aaron Fookes broke the home defensive line and touched down, for Musgrove to convert.

If the first period had seen Puddletown in the ascendancy, the second saw Weymouth assume control. They got a try back, an unconverted effort by Coburn and, in the final quarter, touchdowns by Tom Beech and David Oakesford, both converted by Nathan Allen, took them to the win, after a competitive encounter that hopefully will stand both sides in good stead for Saturday's league games.

ELLINGHAM & RINGWOOD 2nd 30 BRIDPORT 20

THE home side certainly started the stronger in this Dorset & Wilts Division One opener. They kicked a penalty almost immediately, and scored a converted try soon after, to lead 10-0 before the game was ten minutes old.

Bridport gathered themselves however and got a score back before the end of the first quarter, a unconverted try through winger Mike Pibworth. They crossed the home line again before the end of the half, through their blind side Matt Pown and, with the score again remaining unconverted, tied up the scores at 10-10 at the halfway stage.

The conceding of penalties proved to be Bridport's undoing however. Their opponents kicked three goals during the third quarter to lead 19-10 and, although Pibworth, now playing in the pack, scored his second touchdown of the afternoon, his side still trailed.

A fourth penalty put the home side a score clear before Bridport scored their fourth unconverted try of the afternoon but at 22-20, Ellingham & Ringwood remained ahead, and in the final minutes, they scored an unconverted try of their own and kicked their sixth penalty of the game to cement their win.

All this left the visitors just a little frustrated in view of the fact that they had outscored their opponents in tries but still could not force the win.

PREVIEW

DORCHESTER continue their league campaign on Saturday next when they visit CORSHAM, a side who, generally speaking, end the season very much in the top half of the division.

Having said that, they were soundly beaten by Wimborne in the only league game to be undertaken on September the third.

Dorchester have not enjoyed the best of fortune at this venue in recent times and will do have to be at their best if they are to win this one.

BRIDPORT have a home fixture against WESTBURY. The strength of these opponents is traditionally in their eight and, if the home side can achieve parity of possession, then they have a very real chance of ending the day with a comfortable win.

WEYMOUTH for their part, have a pretty tough ask when they visit SALISBURY 2nd, although their opponents found the going tough at Warminster last time out. This could be a close one.

PUDDLETOWN start their campaign with a trip to POOLE and will certainly have their hands full there.

As to the second sides, Bridport entertain South Wilts and it may well be that their opponents' long journey will contribute to a home win. Dorchester seconds are at home to Oakmedians thirds and will be hoping to emulate their first side's performance of a week ago, while Dorchester thirds will really not know what to expect at their Wimborne counterparts.

Newly promoted Weymouth seconds will travel to Oakmedians seconds "in fear and trembling" for their first game at the higher level. I do not think that Oakmedians are prospering overmuch as a club at the moment however, and they might just find the going easier than expected.

Weymouth thirds, now competing in the Dorset & Wilts league Division Four, have a blank date.

FIXTURES September 17th;

Blues get benefit of British Lion's experience

By STUART BROOM

BOTH management and younger players benefitted from the experience of former British Lion and England international Nigel Horton when he visited Bridport Rugby Club last week.

The former lock whose international career spanned three decades won 20 caps for his country culminating in a Grand Slam in 1980 where he partnered England captain Bill Beaumont in the second row. He also represented the Lions on three tours.

In retirement Nigel maintained his links with the game through coaching, player management and his role for a company that make rugby equipment such as the 'Predator' scrummaging machine.

His visit to Bridport was to help develop the club coaches' education and personal development skills as well as working with the Under-17's and 18's squads, which included the Predator scrummage machine which the club has had for some years.

Superb Magpies hang on to clip Wings

DORCHESTER TOWN 3 WELLING UNITED 2 - ATT: 508

MANAGER Ashley Vickers wielded the axe in an attempt to kick start his team's season and it brought reward with the Magpies hanging on in the second-half to deal league leaders Welling United their first defeat of the season.

The Wings arrived at the Avenue Stadium undefeated, having won six of their opening seven games, whilst the Magpies languished near the bottom of the Blue Square South table with just two wins and six points from their six opening fixtures.

Vickers after keeping faith with most of his season's starting 11 in the hope of a recovery, finally lost patience with the side and made four changes from the team that went down to Sutton United the week before.

Simon Evans made way for debutant Alan Walker-Harris in goal, whilst Ryan Dovell and Jamie Gleeson were given starts in preference to Nick Crittenden and Ashley Nichols. Up front Rico Wilson led the attack in place of Ryan Moss.

In one of the best first-halves seen at the Avenue Stadium for a long time, the only downside was an injury to skipper Mark Jermyn that saw him stretchered off just before the interval with a potential medial ligament injury.

It was Jermyn who almost gave the Magpies the lead inside the first minute. Dovell robbed Wings captain Jack Parkinson after tracking him back to the edge of the Magpies penalty box before releasing Chris Flood down the right-hand side.

Flood switched the ball inside and Jermyn thundered in a shot from the angle of the penalty box that had Wings' keeper Dan Thomas, who was on loan at Dorchester last season, diving full-length to save.

Flood and Ben Dickenson were in irrepressible form down the flanks and when the latter went past Louis Fazakerley for the first time in many during the afternoon, his cross found Wilson who trapped the ball on his chest superbly before turning, but then shot tamely beyond the far post.

Welling despite coming to town with such a reputation were not in the game, and their defence was working overtime as crosses from Neil Martin and Dickenson were hacked clear.

The pressure finally told on 15 minutes when Fazakerley, who had such a poor game he probably wished he had stayed on the coach, tugged Wilson back inside the penalty area, and Flood sent Thomas the wrong way from the spot.

Dickenson went close four minutes later when his shot just cleared the angle of the goalframe after Wilson had chested Gleeson's cross into his path.

It wasn't until midway through the half that Welling worried the Magpies defence who had a lucky let off when Louis Cumbers fed the league's top-scorer Andy Pugh, but he got the ball stuck between his feet just yards from goal and Kyle Critchell cleared the danger.

Dorchester increased their lead on 33 minutes when Fazakerley tried to direct a diagonal crossfield pass from Flood back to Thomas, but he did not get enough power on his header and Dickenson raced to bravely beat Thomas to the ball and nod it over him and just inside the near post.

Walker-Harris who had started the game shakily by flapping at a cross, soon settled down, and after racing outside his area to powerfully head the ball clear, produced a fantastic double save just a minute after the goal. First he parried Lee Clarke's shot away from close range before recovering to push away Cumbers follow-up volley.

With every facet of the team working well, it was a blow when Jermyn was injured in a crunching tackle with Clarke that saw the midfielder carried off and replaced by Moss.

However the Magpies kept their shape to take a two goal half-time advantage, and started the second-half better than the first; Flood beating the offside trap within 14 seconds of the restart but firing woefully past the far post.

Two minutes later Flood cut the ball back from the byeline where Wilson shielded it allowing Moss to thunder a 20-yard shot goalwards that Thomas turned for a corner.

The corner was cleared to Dickenson who dinked the ball into the goalmouth. Thomas jumping with Moss completely missed his punch and the striker headed the ball goalwards.

Although Anthony Acheampong got back he missed his clearance under pressure from Gary Bowles who volleyed it home on the line to give Dorchester a 3-0 lead.

The hosts were to cherish that goal as Welling with the wind, that got stronger as the game went on, behind them, finally started to get in the game.

Walker-Harris saved well at his near post from Loick Pires' angled drive almost immediately, before Clarke got in front of Nathan Walker to a cross, but his header just drifted over the bar with the keeper stranded. Pires then held off Martin before taking the ball on his chest and volleying over the top.

The pressure told and the Wings pulled a goal back when Bowles could only clear the ball to the edge of the box following a goalmouth melee and Parkinson drove a low shot beyond Walker-Harris into the corner of the net.

The pressure started to become relentless, but with every member of the Magpies fighting and chasing every ball they managed to keep Welling at bay.

Hopes were raised of a penalty when Gleeson was put in by Wilson in a rare excursion upfield, and he fell under pressure from Ben Martin, but the referee quite rightly waved play on.

Nerves began to jangle four minutes from time when Welling grabbed a second. Jack Obersteler's corner was headed back at the far post by Martin and Clarke poked the ball home from close range.

There was one final chance for Dorchester in the five minutes added by the referee, but Crittenden's 30-yard free-kick just cleared the crossbar.

Bees rue missed chances

BRIDPORT 1 BRISTOL MANOR FARM 3 - ATT: 118

BRIDPORT produced a much improved performance from last week's FA Cup defeat at Horndean, but paid the penalty for missed chances when visitors Bristol Manor Farm hit them with two late goals.

reappear again this season.

DONTSAYATHING has not raced since breaking down after finishing second at Exeter in November 2009, but is back in the yard following recuperation at the owner's where he did six weeks road work before returning at the beginning of this month.

The seven-year-old who likes good ground is back in training and getting stronger.

ASHBOURNE FOLLY has the persistence and care of owners Heather Dunn and Mr

& Mrs Collier for his chance to race again.

The five-year-old pulled up at Chepstow in March with a broken cannon bone – not too long ago seen as a terminal injury, but following major surgery where he had his leg pinned, he was turned out yesterday (Tuesday) to resume his career.

Head lad Giles Scott said: "Everything looks fine and the scars have healed beautifully.

"He's a lucky lad, and let's hope he has some luck now and wins some races!"

He is expected to be fit to start racing

Bridport survived an early scare when skipper Ryan Hayter under pressure had to clear over his own crossbar after just four minutes.

They went ahead against the run of play after 11 minutes when Matt Condliffe played a superb defence-splitting pass through the visiting defence after Dan Wise had made the space by taking a defender wide, allowing Tom Richardson to beat keeper Lee Ballard with a shot from 16 yards.

However Farm equalised four minutes later when Ricky Chandler cut in from the right before producing a superb left-foot curling shot over Sam Filkins, back after injury, into the top far corner of the net.

Sam Charles almost restored the Bees advantage midway through the half but his shot took a deflection and struck the post before bouncing clear as Bridport stepped up the pace.

Russell Legg couldn't quite get a touch on a cross from Condliffe as he ghosted in at the far post at full-stretch whilst a couple of goalmouth scrambles were hacked away by Farm defenders, but despite the fact Filkins had little to do, Bridport could not relax as the visitors always looked dangerous.

The Bees continued to hold the ascendancy after the break and continued to dominate and created a number of chances, the best falling to Sam Charles who took advantage of a poor back pass. However his shot lacked venom and Ballard was able to parry his first and his follow up shots.

Then Richardson rose quickest to Wise's free-kick but could only direct his header straight at Ballard when either side would have brought a goal.

Bridport paid the price with 13 minutes left when Condliffe won the ball in a tackle near the touchline which unfortunately rebounded into the path of Kye Mountford. He took one step forward and steadied himself before unleashing a superb 30-yard thunderbolt that fizzed across goal and inside Filkins' left post despite the keeper getting a touch on it.

Three minutes later Farm sealed the game with a third when Dave Dunt whipped a left-wing cross into the box and Steve Fitzpatrick ghosted between two defenders to head home.

Bees miss out in good performance

WESTLAND SPORTS 2 BRIDPORT RESERVES 1

MANAGER Steve Crabb felt his side were a little unlucky in not sharing the points in this Magna Dorset Premier League clash.

Sports have been one of the most consistent sides in the league for a number of years; finishing third in the last two seasons; and beat the Bees 5-0 the last time they met.

"They are a good side, and I think our efforts deserved a point. We competed well right to the end and could have snatched something at the end; we certainly gave them a game which is good."

The hosts took the lead just on the half-hour but Bridport equalised five minutes before the break with an excellent goal. Adam Steele's cross was headed on by Darren Lock and Jamie Morgan volleyed home for the edge of the box.

Sports upped their game after the interval and created more chances than the Bees, one of which brought the winner midway through the half.

BOB BUCKLER RACING

WITH STUART BROOM

Buckler gearing up for the new season

WHILST the new season technically starts at the beginning of May, and despite some national hunt racing during the summer months, the real cut and thrust does not really take place until the winter months.

Currently there is a two week lull in racing whilst horses, yards and particularly jockeys take a break and recharge their batteries ahead of six frantic months of action.

As with most yards the summer months become the transfer window of racing and the Buckler yard are no different.

TIGER BREEZE has gone to a new career to become a polo horse whilst Power Lord has retired.

CRANK HILL who won twice and was placed another seven times in his 25-race career has been sold by owners Strictly Come Racing to go point to pointing, but on the plus side the racing syndicate have purchased MALIN HEAD and SAINT PERAY to replace him, and they are settling down well in the yard.

Two horses that have been out injured are both making good recoveries and will early in the New Year.

There was not such good news however about stable jockey Nathan Sweeney who was recovering from a broken leg having been unseated aboard Ethiopia at Newton Abbot in early July.

Unfortunately his expected return at the end of this month has been delayed after he was involved in a car accident which displaced one of the pins holding the plate in position.

No new date has been given for his return at the moment.

Don't have nightmares.
Sleep soundly with the new (very improved) smoke alarm.

It's got to be worth a

INSIDE: Dorset football round-up

Generals in charge at the Meadow

CHESHAM UNITED 4 WEYMOUTH 1
Evostik Southern Premier - att: 313

CHESHAM United struck twice in the last nine minutes to put an unfair slant on the scoreline as Weymouth suffered yet another defeat that leaves them second bottom in the Evo-stick Southern League Premier Division.

Having led early on, the Terras fell behind just before the break, and after squandering a number of chances went chasing the game in the final minutes and paid the consequences.

Following the poor performance against Evesham the previous week, manager Brendon King made five changes, three of them enforced. Included in the starting line-up was new signing, striker Sam Molsom.

Weymouth got off to a great start and Tim Stephenson headed them into a seventh minute lead from Stephen Reed's corner, and it took a good save from Shane Gore to deny Warren Byerley a second.

Chesham, known as The Generals, who had gone 23 home games unbeaten were shaken but gradually regained their composure and equalised just before the half-hour when Brad Wadkins beat Tom Manley following a good move from the Generals.

Chesham fired by the goal took control and the lead two minutes from the break when captain Simon Thomas scored.

Byerley given a better surface might have equalised before the interval, but the Terras came out fighting in the second-half and went close with two headers from Mark Peters and Ben Gerring before Molsom was denied by Gore who turned his effort over the bar.

With time running out King gamblled by throwing all his subs on in an all-out attack, but Chesham picked them off.

Thomas claimed his second of the game nine minutes before the finish, before Danny Talbot made sure there was no comeback with a fourth three minutes from time.

Manager Brendon King once again rued missed chances but was insistent his side are close to turning the corner.

"We did not deserve to lose, and especially by that score. We had chances early in the second-half that unfortunately we did not capitalise on, and were caught out twice in the last ten minutes when we were pushing for the equaliser.

"It is a fine line between winning and losing, and we are not far away from turning the corner."

The Terras travelled to Cirencester on Tuesday in a basement battle - both sides only having five points, in what was a crucial game for both clubs.
